HE WILL ACCEPT.

PROFESSOR JOHN FRYER NOW OF CHINA

Will Accept the Oriental Chair Offered Him by the Board of Regents.

Position Accepted.

Professor John Fryer, who was elected last summer to have charge of a chair of Oriental languages at the University of California, has been heard from. The notice of his election was sent to him at once but the Regents did not hear from him so they sent another notice. He is holding a very responsible educational position in China and will be unable to leave until spring. He accepts the position and says he will be ready to take up his work when college opens next fall.

Sweet Rumor.

A little while ago it was rumored that the cable road system on San Pablo avenue was to be changed into an electric one, and that the track would be extended to West Berkeley. Of late we have heard nothing about actual work being done. Give us another pleasant rumor. Such things make us feel in good humor for a while, and only costs the humorist a few minutes of breath this is good for nothing else.

Concert Tonight.

The program to be rendered this evening at the North Berkeley Congregational church, at the concert to be given by Miss Kate F. Byrne, is as follows: Quartet, "Gay Little Birds," H. B. Pasmore, Florence Wyman, W. E. Smith and Annie Forester; the old song, "Whither," Lassen, Miss Byrne; piano, Rondo in E flat, Mehr, Miss Kendall; "Dreaming," Milton Willings. W. E. Smith; violin, "Souvenir di Bellini," Artot, Mr. Seekamp; quartet, "Vale of Rest," Mendelssohn; "Oh, My Love is Like the Red, Red Rose," Leslie; piano, "Spinner Lied," Wagner-Liszt, Miss Kendall; "Love Me, Love Thee," Arditi, Miss Byrne; quartet, "What My Lover Said, Beware," H. M. Pasmore.

The New Comet.

The following elements of the new comet, Brooks, were determined by Professor Leuschner, Mr. Fearis and Mr. Ross of the students' observatory of the University of California from three observations by Mr. Atkin of the LickObservatory, the last of which was received yesterday morning.

The inclination of the plane of the ecliptic is 76 degrees and 43 minutes. The longitude of the ascending node is 8E degrees and 1 minute; the longitude of perihelion is 22 degrees and 12 minutes; the preihelion distance is 0.8459 astronomical units. The comet is receding from the sun and approaching the earth at present. The comet passed its perihelion on October 23d.

There are a number of needy people in West Berkeley who will have nothing else to give thanks for on Thursday next than for the fact that they are alive. Some of them need clothing for which they would be very thankful. Others would like a good dinner on that day. Any person desiring to contribute either food or clothing can send the same to the GAZETTE office or drop us a postal card and your contributions will be sent for. All articles sent to the GAZETTE office will be turned over to the Salvation Army who will see that everything is distributed and to needy persons.

The University football team played its last practice game yesterday afternoon. Today and tomorrow they will be instructed in private signals and on Thursday they will play the game of their lives. Of course it is but natural that we should wish them success, and we believe that they will be successful for ever since they commenced to practice they have been doing honest work. We want them to win by a clear score, however, and not on a fluke such as Stanford won on last year.

Two fires yesterday destroyed property in Chicago valued at $200,000.

Trinity-Unity.

Last evening the friends of Editor Nash of the GAZETTE and his accomplished wife gave them a surprise party. When it was known that the venerable editor was at the fortieth mile stone it was determined to mark it distinctively. At an hour of good season the friends assembled at Lancaster Block at East Berkeley where the happy couple reside. It was then whispered among the crowd that it was also Dr. Nash's birthday.

If possible this strengthened the importance of the occasion. Soon the party found itself within the spacious rooms and made themselves at home announcing to the somewhat bewildered couple that they had come to spend the evening and were going to have a good time on this occasion. The visitors were again astonished on learning that the day was also the anniversary of the wedding-day of the surprised.

It used to be said at school years gone by "three in one you can't" This saying was demolished by holding three celebrations in one.

Being old acquaintances everybody felt at ease. Miss Jessie McLean was soon escorted to the piano by Mr. J. J. Nash. Without the flowing hair she might be likened to Padeweski. A natural talent for music and its execution on the piano, she gave the guests a chance to enjoy it by playing a variety. Whether of the medium or high class, she was equally easy in the handling of it. She also sings well, and was assisted by Mrs Price and Misses Grace, Edna and Hazel Price and Mr. J. J. Nash.

Miss Hazel Price, only six years of age, gave a pretty recitation, which showed ability beyond her years.

Editor Nash was not backward when called upon for a song, which he gave in the German dialect, greatly to the amusement of all within hearing. In answer to an encore he gave a medley in goon style, and was loudly applauded for it.

Dancing was also participated in for a while, and then the welcome guests were invited to sit down to the feasting board, and partake of the many good things provided. All did justice to the large variety set before them. The happy couple were toasted, and wit went about the board with as much free lom as Cupid.

Later in the evening the company was treated to a musical duet by Mr. Roscoe Goodsell of San Bernardino, on the flute, accompanied by Miss Edna Price on the piano.

All went merry as the marriage bell until Father Time pointed out the hour for departure.

It was an evening which will be long remembered by all of those participating and by Editor and Doctor Nash particularly.

The Berkeley GAZETTE calls its contemporary to order for misrepresenting and overdoing things about the amount of crime in that city. That is right. A newspaper, in order to create a little attention, should never go too far, as it injures a rising little city to spread such reports to the world. If you make people on the outside believe that your place is a hell-hole, they are liable to hunt other localities to settle with their children. A few other papers might also consider.—Needles Eye.

J. H. Mason, son of our Judge, A. A. Mason, editor of the Venturian, Ventura, California, was married to a LADY in that city on last Tuesday.—Albra (Iowa)Unison.

Great Scott! What is the country coming to. Have the newspaper men in the country got to put on their spectacles and distinguish between a "new woman" and a lady? Why, bless your soul, all the "new women" in California are ladies.

The University Glee Club will probably go south during the Christmas holidays, giving concerts in various towns. A concert will be given by the club in Stiles hall on December 4th.

Caroline R. Beibe has sued C. Pape and H. W. Taylor of the Berkeley Planing Mill upon a note for $3500, secured by a chattel mortgage. Mrs. Beibe also sues Pape individually to foreclose a mortgage for $3,500 on his real estate on Addison way.

The Trustees of Alameda have refused to pay the bills of the Sunset Telephone for the past two months on six instruments claiming that they have been of no benefit since the long distance telephones have been put in. This is about the same experience a great many people are now having in Berkeley, who have got the long distance phone.

The West Berkeley Populists are distributing about 2,000 copies of the liberty edition of the "Coming Nation." Parties wanting copies can have them by calling at Sam Fisher's or Charles Loebs' on University avenue, West Berkeley.

John G. McKane, who was formerly the political boss of New York, is now boss of the quarry gang at the Sing Sing State Prison. There is just such a job waiting for Boss Buckley and Boss Burns at the Folsom State prison in this State.

George E. White, who has had so much notice in the newspapers on account of his now famous divorce case, which brought out the history of the man's life, is now serving time in the County Jail at San Francisco. He was sent there by Judge Hibbard for contempt of Court.

It is said that President Cleveland will take grounds in relation to a foreign policy in accordance with public opinion. His intentions will be given in his message. After the message has become public we can tell better.

A snow storm which grew into a blizzard passed over Kansas City and Oklahama yesterday. The heaviest of the storm was in Central Mission. Telegraph wires between Chicago and St. Paul's were all broken down.

There is a growing tendency to consolidate newspaper interests in large cities and finally make a monopoly, which if completed, as it looks now to be the intention, will eventually become the strongest power in the land.

Secretary of the Navy Herbert will urge Congress to appropriate money to build two or three vessels of the Kearsarge class, several torpedo boats and two sailing vessels for the use of the cadets at Annapolis.

The Berkeley daily GAZETTE has passed its first birthday and sails serenely out into the sea of another year. It is a live, home paper and ought to prosper.—Redlands Citograph.

That no matter whether you can get any hard stuff in East Berkeley or not, the D. & D. store has an excellent substitute. Ask them for that celebrated Orindo Park apple cider.

That Thomas Marquis, a foolish youth, who resides in Alameda, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by jumping into the bay. His sweetheart had jilted him was the cause of his rash act, and he was looking for better fish in the sea than had ever been caught.

CAN BEER IT.

SO SAY THE SELLERS OF STEAM BEER

Which is Now Reduced in Price Owing to the Beer War That is on.

Beer War On.

The beer war has again broken out between the Sydicate and independent breweries, and as a result the price of beer has already dropped from $5 to $4 a barrel, and it is believed that it will drop to $3 before the war is over. This latter is the mark it reached when the war was on before, but since then there has been a truce, and all the breweries signing an agreement to charge $5 per barrel for their beverage.

The compact as yet has not been formally declared at an end, but in reality this is the case, for the drivers have been instructed that when they sell a barrel of beer for $5 at any saloon they shall throw one dollar back to be used in treating the crowd.

A train on the Santa Fe route was wrecked yesterday near Shoemaker, a railroad station north of Las Vegas. It was the first Chicago Express and ran into the west bound freight which was in the back without the right to be there. Postal clerks, Harry Russell of La Junta and F. D. Petney of Denver was instanrly killed. No known California passengers were injured.

Whitelaw Reid, of the New York Tribune, will winter at Phœnix, Ariz., for his health. He is afflicted with asthma.

Bandit Crowley, who is being looked after by Sheriff White and the Contra Costa county officers, seems to be as elusive as was Evans, the Visalia bandit. He is reported to be badly wounded, weary and footsore, yet he does not seem to have much trouble in keeping out of the clutches of the officers.

Police Judge Low of San Francisco, yesterday issued a search warrant for the purpose of searching the cellar of a house for the body of a man who was murdered ten years ago. The person who gave the information is a trance medium, who says the dead man's spirit had told her about it.

The oldest inhabitant is at sea just now in regard to the weather. About a week ago the weather was uncomfortably warm; last week the wind blew from the Arctic regions and chilled one's very marrow; this morning the ground was covered with frost and a regular London fog prevailed. All of these changes are preferable, however, to the blizzards that they are having in Kansas and other States just now.

E. G. Buswell's suit against the Southern Pacific Company to compel the corporation to permit free riding on the Seventh-street local road was on the calendar in Judge Ellsworth's court yesterday. Argument upon the company's demurrer was continued for a week.

General Nicholson, a teamster of Berkeley, who was cited for contempt for not paying alimony to his wife and given until today to pay up or go to jail, decided that he would rather pay than remain in the custody of the sheriff, so he dug up $25 and settled.

William Nat Friend, '96, president of the Associated Students of the U. C., won the prize of $10 offered for the best football story by the publishers of the souvenir Thanksgiving day football programme. The competition was open to the State University and Stanford, and a number of stories were submitted from both colleges. The souvenir this year is the most elaborate yet issued, and the athletic associations of the two universities will net a neat sum from its publication. It contains articles by Butterworth and Camp and a number of sketches by well known San Francisco artists, the cover, printed in four colors, having been designed by Beringer.

WELL RID OF HIM.

A SAN FRANCISCO DEBAUCHER COMMITS SUICIDE.

A Nineteen Year Old Girl in Sacramento has Mysteriously Disappeared.

Special dispatches to the GAZETTE.

Couldn't Face the Music.

San Francisco, Nov. 26—A barber named Resso, who has a shop and living rooms at 441 Broadway committed suicide back of his shop last night by firing a bullet from a 44 calibre pistol through his left temple. Resso was arrested yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock on a charge of debauching young girls. He was released on $250 bail shortly after 5 o'clock, and returned to his shop where he chatted with a friend until after 10 o'clock when he retired to his rooms back of the shop. That was the last seen of him alive. The officers had a sure case against him and it is supposed that he would rather kill himself than face the charges and go to San Quentin for a long term of years.

Girl Missing.

Sacramento, Nov. 26—Lena Bunce, the 19 year old daughter of M. A. Bunce of this city, mysteriously disappeared from her home last night. The city has been thoroughly scoured for her, but no traces of the girl have been discovered. The police of the different towns and cities have been notified, but it is feared she has been foully dealt with.

Terrible Explosion.

New York, Nov. 26.—A dispatch to the Herald from Barcellona states that a terrible accident and loss of life occurred at Palma, capital of Majoria about 13 miles from that place yesterday by which 80 persons, mostly women, were killed. They were engaged outside the walls in picking the powder from thousands of condemned cartridges and the ground about them was covered with powder. In some unaccountable manner a cartridge was exploded and 37 women and 14 men were instantly killed, and 35 women and 5 men were seriously injured. Since then 30 more of the women have died. The explosion was so heavy that it cracked and did serious damage to the masonry of the walls about the city.

Bad Accident.

Los Vegas, Nov. 26.—A collision between a freight and passenger train took place last night on a curve near here by which three persons were hurt, two were killed and seventeen were injured. Conductor Robb is dying and there is no possible chance for his recovery. J. Seiler, a merchant of San Francisco, who was amongst those injured, was sent so his home in that city this morning. The accident was caused by the carelessness of the freight conductor who was trying to make a switch beyond where he was instructed to wait.

W. B. P. Club.

The members of the Club knowing that, just now, strict watch must be kept upon all matters pertaining to their interests, will meet this evening and interchange views.

Almost every day brings up new phases in what concerns this end of the town, and it will not do to let things go by default, nor let any advantage be taken. Each member can contribute some knowledge which goes towards making up the whole.

The officers of the association contend that the members of the Club must attend to business personally if they wish to benefit West Berkeley, and must work to accomplish what they desire.

There is an opportunity to give the town a push ahead but to do so all hands must join in and assist in the movement. No one must hang back and thinking his neighbor will do the work. To a great extent that has been the custom and those who have worked so zealously for the town's interest have not always been the foremost to get the credit.

Every member is earnestly requested to attend the regular meeting and thereby give it a force that only members cannot do. Again remember men there is wisdom.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

The Supreme Court has just rendered a decision which is of the greatest importance to property owners, and it will result in the grading and macadamizing of Alcatraz avenue its entire length, and also the unfinished portion of the macadamizing on San Pablo avenue.

The case in point is that of Charles H. Smith against Barclay Hazard, an appeal from the Superior Court of Los Angeles and is as follows:

It was held that the provisions in the law by which the protest of property owners will stop work for six months does not apply in a case where two contiguous blocks, ungraded, have graded streets at either end. The City Council of Los Angeles held that it was proper to let the contract for each of the two blocks separately and did so. Hazard claimed that the work must be advertised for and let in one contract and in sustaining the contention the Lower Court held also that the protest of the property owners stopped the work for six months. The Supreme Court holds that in such cases as this not only does the protest clause of the law not run, but that the City Council had the right to let the contract for the whole of the work or part of it just as it saw fit.

FROM THE LADIES.

Oakland has just been given a good lesson by the ladies of that city. It matters not whether they are called new women or old women, they have awakened the Oakland business men and manufacturers from the Rip Van Winkle sleep that they have been indulging in so long. Only a few weeks ago the Ebell Society of Oakland held a meeting at which was exhibited goods of Oakland manufacture and they agreed to do all in their power to have these goods used in preference to all others, as it was shown that they were just as good, and in many cases better than those of San Francisco or other manufacture, and that the price was no greater and in many cases not so much. The scope of and variety of goods opened the eyes of the people, and it finally dawned upon them that it would be a good idea to hold a Midwinter Fair where all can see with their own eyes what is being manufactured in their midst. The idea was no sooner suggested than it took form and now the application for space is so great that the managers do not know what to do with the applicants. The exposition will be a grand success and it will teach the Oakland business men that if they want to do business they have got to reach out for it and show the people what they have got. As the ladies of Oakland have given them the first suggestion the GAZETTE will offer another, viz, advertise in these columns.

THERE is no let-up in the fight between the Chronicle and the Examiner in their circulation fight, and so busy are the editors of those papers in looking for snap shots of a white and a black horse, and the whereabouts of a hundred-page Midwinter Fair edition, that Durrant, Corbett and Fitzsimmons, Peter Lane and other celebrities have been lost in the shuffle. Even the Monroe doctrine has gone to the demnition bow-wows so far as these editors care, and the Cuban revolt, the Venezuelan question and the Canadian police invasion in Alaska have no further interest for them. We little country editors have a whack at each other once in a while, just for the fun of the thing, and enjoy it; but [illegible] very soon, for we have [illegible] bank accounts that have been left us by rich relatives, and therefore when it comes to bets of $10,000 we cannot put up, and in consequence have to shut up. The Chronicle is slightly handicapped, however, as it has no New York edition to help it out. The country editors are now turning somersaults in their glee while watching the fight, and are patting each of them on the back while they shout, "Sic 'em, Tige!"

IF THE people of Vallejo do not soon become ashamed of themselves and especially their sidewalks, it will not be the fault of the Vallejo News. The editor of that paper is a native Son of Vallejo, but he has been out in the world and has become imbued with progress, and now upon his return to his native heath he has found silurianism rampant. The sidewalk contractor will soon be busy there, however, for such sledge hammer blows as is being dealt by the News will soon shatter something and in order to save themselves the silurians and mossbacks will have to stand from under.

DURRANT is now wearing tailor made clothes and diamonds in his cell. A short time ago the papers were telling about his parents having to deed their home to Mr. Duprey, and of the National Guardsmen assessing themselves in order to raise money for his expenses. It must be pleasant reading for these people, many of whom have to wear store clothes or overalls, to learn that this fiend is wearing diamonds and fine clothes, and also running a pownbroker's business in the County Jail.

CLOAK DEPARTMENT

The enormous business we are doing in this branch of our store is simply astonishing and far exceeds our most sanguine expectations. There must be something attractive about our wares and prices for everybody that has looked at our garments has most emphatically declared them superior to anything seen in San Francisco at anything like such prices.

Our preparations were made long before the rise in the cloth market and therefore we made our purchases under favorable circumstances by which our customers profit.

For instance, we sell a boucle jacket with large mandolin sleeves and velvet piping at $7.50, a splendid fitting garment. An imported broadcloth double cape braided top and bottom with soutache braid, in black, brown, navy and electric, $5.75 and $7,50, an extraordinary value.

Heavy Covert jackets with velvet collars, $7.00. Plush capes $6.50. Plush capes trimmed with soutache $9.00. Boucle capes trimmed with real Thibet $15.00.

....An Extraordinary Variety of Fine Garments to suit all Tastes.....

Our Customers are Cordially Invited to Inspect our Cloak Department.

Exporting Catskins.

There are 50,000 skins of house cats exported from the United States every year. These skins come from all parts of the country, a wholesaler seldom receiving a consignment of furs from a country correspondent that does not include a number of catskins. When the correspondent receives 15 cents apiece for them on an average he may consider that he is doing remarkably well. There is very little demand for catskins in this country except for cattail rugs and other oddities, sometimes for trimmings, and very rarely as a chest covering in winter for an old man who belongs to the customs of a past generation. So the New York wholesaler sorts his catskins into lots of a half dozen different grades, and sends them to London, to be sold at the quarterly auctions of one of the great fur dealers. The skins of black cats bring the most money, and as many as 10,000 of them have been disposed of for 60 cents apiece. Yellow cat skins are next in value. Maltese and body mixed colors bring the least, often going for 5 cents apiece, or rather they bring the least of the full grown cats, for there is a demand at 3 and 4 cents apiece for the skins of little kittens.

A Good Tip.

A manufacturer of machinery on West Washington street says the idea of talking over a wire originated with a darky in Selma, Ala., thirty odd years ago. Selma was a sleepy old town at that time, and so little was going on that at noontime everybody went home for an hour or so. Even the telegraph office was deserted except for an old colored man who acted as office "boy." The old darky had learned the combination of ticks that called for Selma. One day when as usual the "boy" had been left in charge the machine ticked off the call. The darky stood scratching his head in perplexity. Again came the call, this time more peremptory. Then there came a fusillade of tickings that sounded profane. The old man was equal to the occasion, for, bending down to the keys, he said distinctly:

"Dey ain't no one heah. Dey all gone to dinnah!"

This was a good story in Selma until the telephone was invented, and now some of the inhabitants who laughed at it are disposed to kick themselves for not acting on the tip given by the darky. —Chicago Tribune.

Valuable Collection of Stamps.

When a collection of postage stamps owned by James N. Paul, Jr., of Philadelphia was insured, it was stated that it was the most valuable in the world. "While Mr. Paul has, beyond a doubt, a fine collection," said a stamp expert, "there are, in all likelihood, hundreds of other collections that far exceed his in value. For instance, there is the collection of Philippe de la Renotre Ferrary of Paris. Of course it is impossible to estimate exactly such a collection, but that one has been valued at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. It was left to the museum by the late T. K. Tapling, member of parliament for Leicestershire. The state of Maine boasts of a collection that is worth about $200,000. The city of Cleveland has another that is valued at from $50,000 to $100,000, and there are many more that I cannot now recall. It is a curious hobby, that of collecting postage stamps, and it would surprise people who are not interested in it to know the amount of money that is invested in old postage stamps."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

BALDNESS NO OBJECTION.

How the Enterprising Photographer Overcomes the Fears of Hairless Sitters.

An agent soliciting trade for a Broadway photographer recently called at the Park avenue home of one of New York's best known physicians and tried to convince the doctor that he should have his picture taken. He was selling ——'s photograph coupons. The physician has a terribly bald head. Nothing but a fretful fringe remains on an erstwhile luxurious head of hair. On that account he had long ago given up having photographs of himself made, so he replied:

"No; thank you. I want none of your coupons. I have broken myself of the photograph habit. My head is too bald for the business."

But the agent was persistent, and finally the physician said: "I will make you a fair proposition. I will take a double dose of your coupons if you will promise to fix my pictures so the bald spot will not show."

"All right," said the agent after a moment's reflection. "Mr. —— can arrange that. Such things are done every day in our business. Here are your coupons. Come to the gallery for your sitting next Saturday."

When he went to the photographer's studio the following Saturday, the doctor was met at the door by a lad who, when the customer removed his silk hat, said:

"Oh, this is Dr. ——, is it? Pass right along this way." Curious to know why this lad had been forewarned of his visit, the physician passed in and was finally met by a young lady, who glanced at his head and said:

"Oh, Dr. ——, I believe—the man who wishes to have photographs which will indicate that he has a full growth of hair on his head?"

"I'm the man," perplexedly replied the physician as he went on out into the operating room.

"Ah," said the man in charge of the cameras, "this is Dr. ——, is it not—the man for whom we are to make photographs which will not show the baldness of his head, as our agent promised. Just kindly step over to the other end of the room. No; do not lay your coat and hat down. Keep the overcoat on your arm and kindly place your hat on your head. That's right. Now look pleasant, please. There, your picture's taken!"

"Well, I hope I can get home without being taken in by a gang of bunko steerers," said the physician, after he realized that he had been made the victim of a clever trick.—New York World.

Now is the time to buy your cloaks capes and suitst By purchasing $15 worth of goods at our establishment we will present you, free of charge, with an order for one half dozen Haussler's photographs. Palace Cloak Co., 1009 and 1011 Washington street, between 10th and 11th streets, Oakland. 146

A lady who had recently moved to a new neighborhood was one morning called to the door by the violent ringing of the bell. On the piazza stood a dapper little man who immediately commenced talking at a mile a minute pace: "Mornin, ma'am. Dunno whether you know me or not. Most of the people round here do. I'm the man that has fits."

The astonished lady thought that some people claim distinction on very strange, not to say unfit, grounds.

"Yes'm, have fits any time, any place," he went on. "Liable to drop right down in one anywhere. Spect to get a pension. Sellin these wire hooks for birdcages. Every one buys some. Give me anything they likes—5 cents or 25 cents. Everybody helps me, cos they know I have fits—liable to drop right down in one anywhere." The dazed listener hastily gave him what change she had and closed the door, thanking her lucky stars that he didn't feel called upon "to drop down in one" right there.—Boston Transcript.

Curious, but True.

Although difficult to believe, it is nevertheless true that the death of two half sisters, the daughters of the same father, occurred 170 years apart. The grandfather of the British minister, Charles James Fox, Sir Stephen Fox, married in 1654, and had a daughter born to him in 1655, who died in the course of the same year. He had several other children, who grew up and married, but all of them died before the father, and without issue. Sir Stephen, not wishing his large fortune to fall into the hands of distant relatives, married again at a very advanced age, and his youngest daughter was born in 1727. She reached the age of 98 years, and died in 1825, that is 170 years after the death of her oldest sister. She saw Queen Victoria when the latter was a child, while her half sister was carried in the arms of Oliver Cromwell.

A Queer Mania.

A short time ago a lady in Paris became violently insane on the street and was sent to an asylum. Her apartments in the Rue Rambuteau—fine ones, for which she paid an annual rent of 2,000 francs—were then visited. An intolerable stench pervaded them. The demented woman had completely "tinned" them with empty sardine boxes, which emitted the peculiar perfume. There were four cartfuls of these odorous boxes.

Turn Around.

When the wind turns your umbrella inside out, don't attempt to turn it back. Right about face and let the wind undo its mischief. The chances are the umbrella will right itself without injury.

In England and Scotland milkmaids believe that if they forget to wash their hands after milking their cows will go dry. This superstition is diligently fostered by the owners of the cows.
